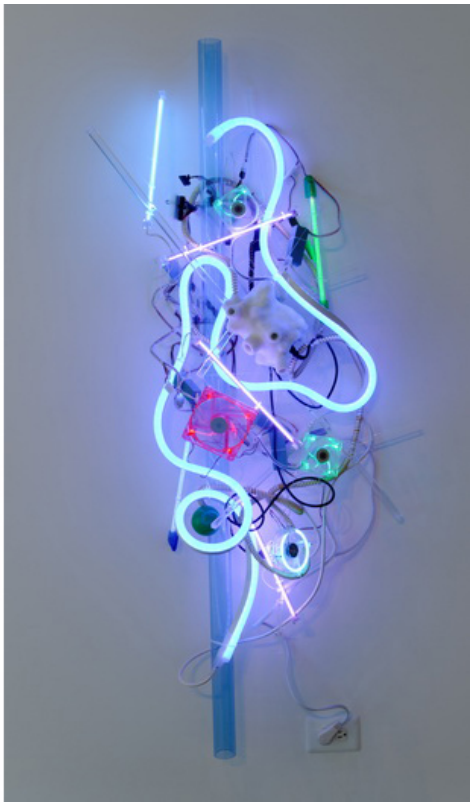
Welcome, Stranger Log In | Get Curvy updates Keep up to date with Curvy

ADELA ANDEA

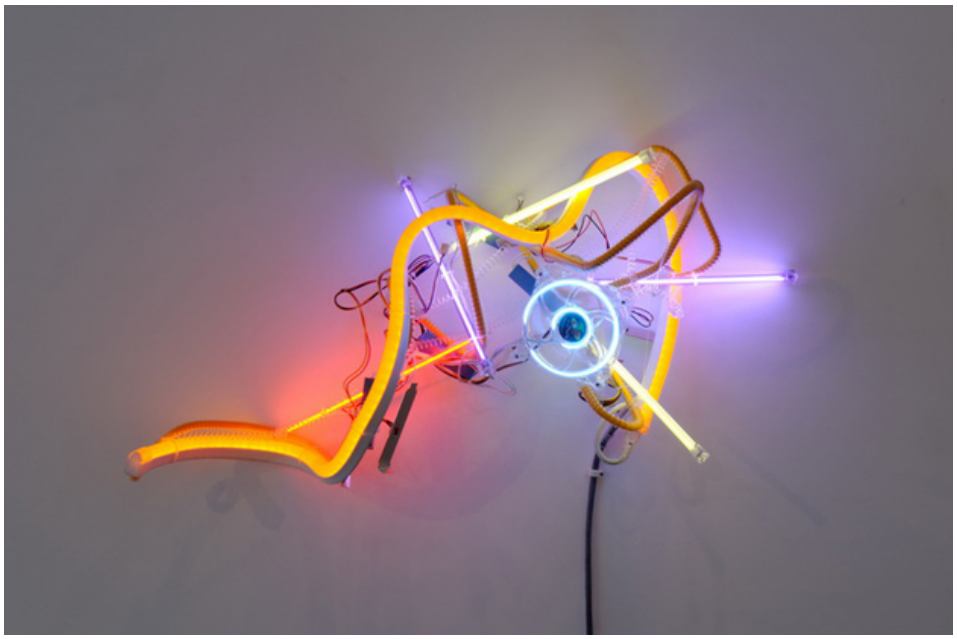
Posted on April 15, 2013 by Maria F in Art, News

Like 15 Tweet 2

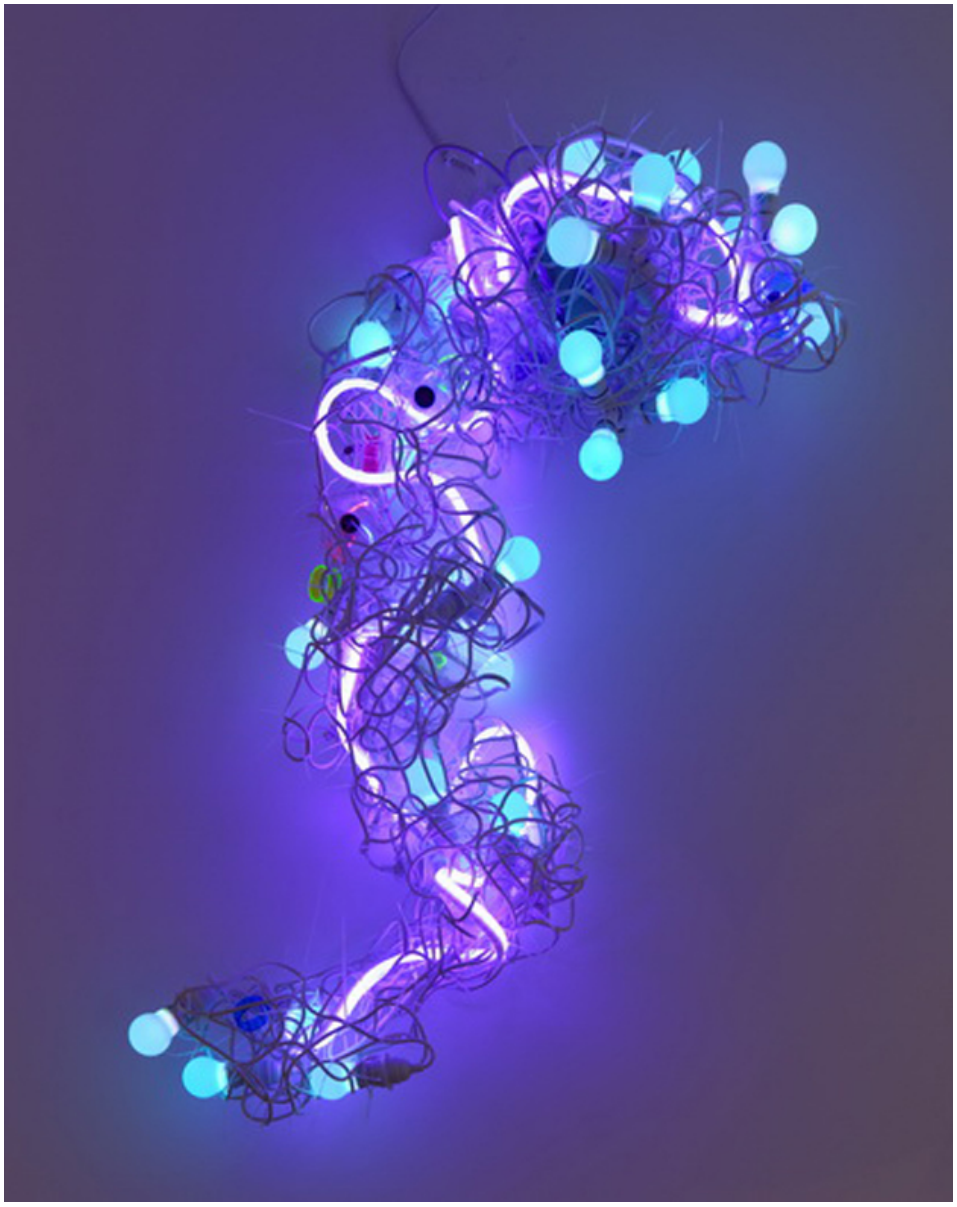
Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas



Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas

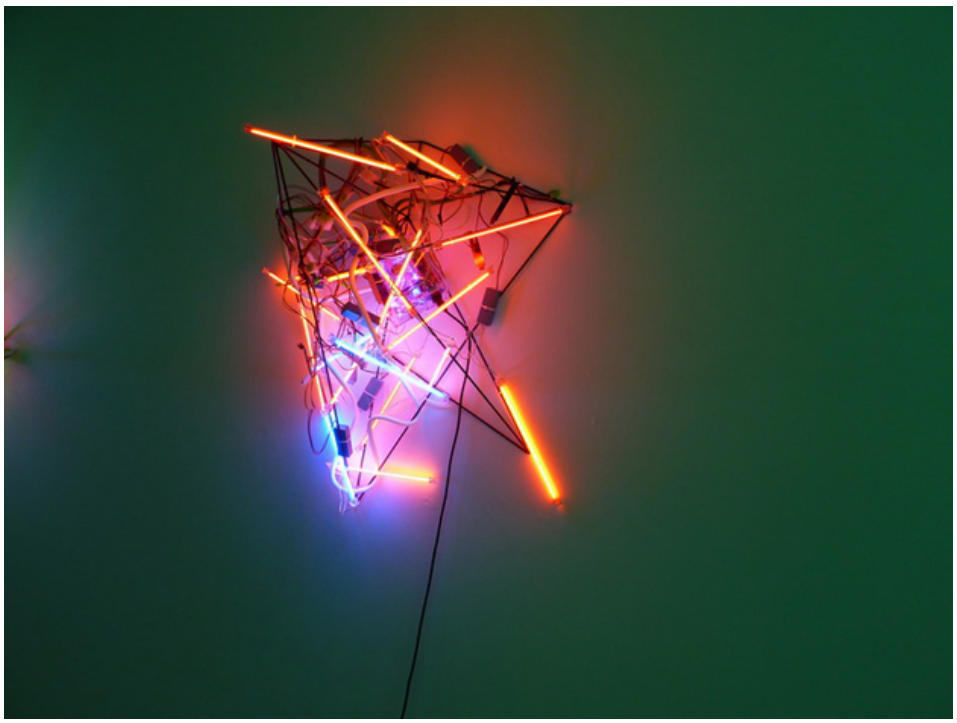


Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas



Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas

Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas



Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas

Adela Andea - Image: Anya Tish Gallery, Houston Texas

Based in Texas and born in Romania, new media artist and light worker Adela Andea creates illuminant biomorphic eco-systems with sculptures that dazzle like neural neon networks.

The lighting component of her work is arranged with an expressionist and apparent stochasticity revealing naturally occurring visceral blueprints of life. With hardware exposed, electrical sockets and circuitry dangle like tendons and veins or tech-nature anatomy, suggesting bio-emergent properties, an electric sentient presence.

Adela sets the stage allowing the viewer to engage and reflect upon their own intimate relationship with both technology and nature, and the inherent dualities and commonalities that exist between the two.

You can see more of Adela's work at www.adelaandea.com.

© 2013 | About Us | Contact | Links